Information on fake CCAMLR Science journal

TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

The CCAMLR Secretariat has become aware of a website purporting to represent the publication CCAMLR Science.

The site <http://www.ccamlrscience.com> has gone to great lengths to appear as a legitimate site to the extent of harvesting actual content from the CCAMLR website and recently supplementing with non-CCAMLR but related content obtained elsewhere. The purpose of the site is to fool potential publishers into submitting content for a fee. See https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Predatory\_publishing for more detail on this practice.

The Secretariat has contacted the domain registrar (GoDaddy) and requested the domain be delisted.

Sincerely,

Dr David Agnew
Executive Secretary
